A Healthscope spokesperson said: “We are working closely and collaboratively with our all our medical staff every day to ensure continuous improvement, quality and safety within our state-of-the-art hospital. The dedication, support and communication from the vast majority of the medical team has been superb.

“We are committed to providing world-class, patient-centred care for the Northern Beaches community, and in doing so we recognise the dedication and focus of our hospital team in consistently delivering great health outcomes.

“There are many, many good stories from our first month of operation. We have delivered more than 160 babies and cared for almost 5,000 patients by providing medical, surgical, critical care and mental health services, as well as paediatrics, renal, cancer care and cardiology services.

“We will continue our tireless effort to care for the patients in our community and foster a healthy, productive and rewarding environment for our people.”
